The intent was 5% of the existing salary of $185K = $9250 for PERSI...total of 9.5% - the other is fine...

Thanks

Hi Ruth,

I just listened to the voice mail that you left. Below is what I would calculate from that information.

Base salary increase of 4.5%. Travis currently makes $185,000 a 4.5% increase would move him to $193,325. Because we pay biweekly and in even amounts for salaried positions that will round up from $7,435.5769 to $7,436 or $193,336 annually.

Deferred compensation in the amount of 5%. If I take 5% from the new salary number of $193,336 that would equal a payment into PERSI of $9,667.

Please confirm if I have interpreted what you've said correctly.

Thank you,

G
